

Apostle Dundas Global Equity Fund

Investment Objective

- The target is to exceed the MSCI All Country World ex Australia Index by 2.5% p.a. after all fees and expenses on a rolling 5-year basis
- Capital and income growth to exceed the benchmark and inflation
- To achieve lower volatility than the benchmark

Investment Firm

Dundas Global Investors ('Dundas') started in 2010 as an independent Investment Management firm based in Edinburgh that manages a single investment strategy, global equities.

Dundas can best be categorised as Defensive Growth, with a focus on companies with strong and sustainable returns on equity and a growing dividend stream.

Key Advantages

- Pro-active management of both components of total return (capital and dividends)
- Fee minimisation and alignment of incentives
- Lower cost base
- Enhanced research that capitalises on technology

Investment Style

Dundas invests for capital and income growth. The team uses fundamental, bottom-up research to find companies capable of real long-term wealth generation that will lead to both capital and dividend growth. While dividends are an important part of the investment proposition, Dundas places greater emphasis on future income streams as opposed to current payout ratios. The resulting portfolio is globally diversified, has an average holding period of more than five years, satisfactory upside and good downside capture statistics.

Performance and Portfolio Comment – January 2024

Market overview

After a positive end to the year, global equity markets dipped before recovering towards the end of January, with the exception of Asia/China. Large caps regained their leadership positions as small caps declined. Many believe the inflation battle has been won and focus is turning to when interest rates will fall, which has been a positive backdrop for both equity and bond markets. On the other hand, some still see 'sticky' inflation remaining stubbornly above the central bank targets. There has been elevated volatility in Fed rate expectations, and the January Fed meeting left options open, removing some hiking bias but expressing caution about a cut until there is confidence in sustainable inflation toward the 2% target. After three consecutive months of decline, the dollar strengthened notably, and oil rebounded from a three-month decline. The European Central Bank (ECB) kept rates on hold at its January meeting and re-iterated its commitment to remain data-dependent. UK equities stalled in January, however, there have been signs of growth momentum accelerating with consumer confidence hitting a two-year high. In China, the domestic economy continued to struggle, with disappointing retail sales and further deterioration in housing activity. The latter has certainly come to light with the news of the expected liquidation of the major property developer, Evergrande. Chinese authorities continue to mull over various measures for stabilising their stock market.

Geopolitical factors remain volatile, and oil prices rallied as tensions in the Middle East worsened and disruption to shipping through the Suez Canal continued. Drone attacks on Russian energy infrastructure added to the anxiety in the global oil market. In addition, political uncertainty may escalate with the advancing presidential campaign in the US.

Performance overview

Over the past 12 months, the Fund has posted a total return net of fees of 22.16%, while the market returned 23.03%*. In January, the Fund returned 4.63% outperforming the market by 0.68%.

The Fund's outperformance was a factor of both allocation and stock selection, with the effects of allocation the most significance. On an absolute basis, all sectors excluding Materials and Real Estate posted positive returns. Stock selection within Financials was the strongest contributor to performance and the Fund's overweight to the sector was a slight positive. The Consumer Discretionary and Consumer Staples sectors also returned positive stock selection, while the Fund's underweight to the former also aided performance. Being overweight to Health Care and having no exposure to Real Estate, Utilities and Energy was a benefit. Stock Selection within the IT sector was the worst individual detractor to performance, although there was a slight bonus from being overweight the sector. The Fund's underweight to Communication Services hurt performance.

Regionally, stock selection within North America was the strongest contributor to performance, albeit the underweight to the region detracted. Being underweight Asia Pacific was accretive to performance, augmented by positive stock selection. While the Fund's overweight to Europe hit performance, this was mitigated by strong stock selection, with holdings in the Netherlands, the UK and Switzerland performing well.

Two US stocks topped the list of five best stock contributors, insurance solutions provider WR Berkley and industrials supplier WW Grainger. Other stocks included the Danish multinational pharmaceutical company Novo Nordisk, Dutch semiconductor equipment maker ASML and Swiss pharma outsourced manufacturer Lonza.

The bottom five detractors included the US-listed circuit protection specialist Littelfuse, two Swedish stocks, multinational industrial Atlas Copco and measurement technology group Hexagon, the Indian-listed HDFC Bank and finally the Swiss industrial stock Geberit.

Dividends

There were five dividend announcements in January, with an average increase of 20.2%. Three of the announcements were in double digits: - Novo Nordisk 51.6%, Atlas Copco 21.7%, and Lonza Group 14.3%. In addition, LVMH announced a dividend increase of 8.3% and ASML Holding declared an increase of 5.2%.

Portfolio changes

There were no new investments or complete sales made in January.
